

Australian Indoor Nearest The Pin Championships

FORMAT

Each NTP Station will be decided by a single attempt using the distance to the pin after the first shot. Follow up shots to get the ball in the hole will not be required. One player with the furthest shot from the hole will be eliminated at each station*. Note. The first station will comprise three attempts.

Preliminary rounds comprise approximately 15 stations. This number will increase or decrease depending on numbers of competitors. Further stations will be added (or subtracted) as required.

Preliminary rounds will be contested at various times in the lead up to the finals. All players will play ALL preliminary round stations. Players that progress to the final will be advised via e-mail with the results also posted on The Cyber Bunker Website.

First Station elimination will be decided by the best single attempt of three attempts. The average of all three attempts will only be used to determine players to be eliminated in the event of equal distances of the the players best attempt. The player(s) with the greatest distance will be eliminated at this stage. Any ties on subsequent stations will be separated based on the results of the previous station in a count-back method. The lowest ranked players (of those tied) from the previous stations will be eliminated.

A TCB staff member will monitor each entry and will adjudicate for all necessary rulings that impact on the result of the shot. Where possible a ruling will be made prior the shot coming to rest.

Finals will consist of 15 stations and include the top 16 players not eliminated during the preliminary rounds. The Final will be hosted by The Cyber Bunker on a SINGLE Day/Evening to be determined if possible. Should a top 16 player advise unavailability to compete in the final prior to the event, entrants ranked 17 and higher may be eligible to take their place unless match officials determine the player may play earlier than the chosen date. Players that elect to play the Final in advance of the advertised day and finish in first place overall will be entered into a play-off with the winner on the actual day.

All stations after the initial station in the preliminary stage are a one attempt station. Ties for elimination on these stations will be separated by using a count-back system. The ranking of players from previous stations (in order of last station) will be used as required until a player can be eliminated.

Ties during the Final will be decided by a single shot on a station to be determined.

Playing Order for the first station of the Final will be determined by finishing position of the preliminary rounds. The playing order of subsequent stations will be determined by the result of the previous station.

A once only 'mulligan' or 'get out of jail free' opportunity will be available to use to replace any one selected shot that the player chooses to remove. This selection must be made as soon as the players shot he wishes to replace has been played. Use of this mulligan will be available during the final but must be used whilst at least five players remain in the final.

* Numbers of players to be eliminated may be altered. Numbers of players to qualify for finals maybe varied. Numbers of Stations used may vary.
